75th INTERNATIONAL MEETING

MONTMIRAIL (Switzerland)

17th / 20th – 23rd August 2025

How do we experience medicine of the person today?

High-resolution technical imaging, sophisticated laboratory tests and AI-supported evaluation of the results are increasingly shaping our everyday medical practice and guiding our diagnostic and therapeutic decisions. Do these undoubtedly useful achievements still leave us time and opportunities to listen to the patient and to explore the background to a patient's life that could provide clues to important causes and possible treatment options?

Medicine of the person means not only seeing the person as a perfect customer to be analysed, but also meeting them as a person and seeking to understand the illness with them, so that an optimal, personal path to healing can be found.

Experts from various fields will give lectures and engage in intensive group discussions to show us how medicine of the person also belongs to modern human medicine and can be crucial for good treatment.

The congress will also give participants the opportunity to meet each other and to develop as a person and practitioner.

The registration form can be found on our website. The complete programme will be published there later, medicedelapersonne.org/en

Languages

German, French and English

- The presentations will also be given written in all three languages.
- Multilingual discussions will be translated ad hoc.
